WAGOLL

At the present time, the small town of Inverness is full of tourists and sight-seers desperate to get a glimpse of the 'Loch Ness Monster'. One local shop owner declare that he has never before made so much money in just one week! "I cannie believe it!" Mr Malcom reported, "The foreign people have come from all over just to set eyes on the fair wee beastie we call Nessie!"

Many are predicting this debacle may have put the small town of Inverness on the map forever as tourists flock to the Highlands and Loch Ness to investigate for themselves. It is rumored the Government have invested millions in state-of-the-art technology which will use sonar to detect any living creatures deep under the waves.

Will the truth be uncovered? Are the shores of Loch Ness safe at the current time? Only time will tell but this reporter will be the first to report on any developments.
